Attachment to USDA Annual Report 1999

Explanation regarding animals listed in category E

Rabbits:	75	Skin Irritation/Toxicity Studies
	200	Ocular Irritation Studies
	275	Total rabbits in category E
Guinea Pigs:	7	Antigenicity Studies
	941	Dermal Sensitization and Maximization Studies
	948	Total guinea pigs in category E

b4

All of the above listed animals in category E were used on studies going to regulatory agencies regarding product safety or toxicity testing. These tests are required of our clients by state, federal, or other regulatory agencies. During the conduct of these studies, it was imperative that the animals receive no drugs that might interfere with the testing in order to assure study validity. These activities and procedures of conduct for the studies were reviewed and approved by the Institutional Animal Care and Use committee.

The regulations that may require these procedures include 21 CFR 58 (FDA), 40 CFR 160 (EPA-FIFRA), 40 CFR 792 (EPA-TSCA), ENV/MC/CHEM(98)17, Revised 1997, Issued 1998 (OECD), 59 NohSan No. 3850 (Japanese MAFF), and Ordinance 21 (Japanese MOHW).

SURANCE STATEMENTS

- Professionally acceptable standards governing the care, treatment, and use of animals, including appropriate use of anesthetic, analgesic, and tranquilizing drugs, prior to, during, and following actual research, teaching, testing, surgery, or experimentation were followed by this research facility.
- Each principal investigator has considered alternatives to painful procedures.
- This facility is adhering to the standards and regulations under the Act, and it has required that exceptions to the standards and regulations be specified and explained by the principal investigator and approved by the Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee (IACUC). A summary of all such exceptions is attached to this annual report. In addition to identifying the IACUC-approved exceptions, this summary includes a brief explanation of the exceptions, as well as the species and number of animals affected.
- The attending veterinarian for this research facility has appropriate authority to ensure the provision of adequate veterinary care and to oversee the adequacy of other aspects of animal care and use.
